 - Items will not be released without a claim number. If exhibitor requests that someone pick up his/her items, a letter of authorization and claim tag is required.

 - When release number is called, a staff member will escort exhibitor (and only the exhibitor; all others will be required to wait in the auditorium/exit door) to designated areas to collect entered items. If you are picking up a large number of entries, it is strongly suggested that your claim tags be sorted by exhibit hall to minimize time spent locating entries.

Policies and Procedures

- Indemnification – The Ohio State Fair management reserves the final and absolute right to interpret the rules and regulations and to arbitrarily settle and determine all matters, questions, or differences in regard thereto, or otherwise arising out of, connected with, or incident to the Ohio State Fair. It further reserves the right to determine unforeseen matters not covered by these rules, to amend or add to these rules as in its judgment it may determine, and to withdraw all premium offerings in all departments/divisions should any emergency exist and circumstances demand it. Exhibitor agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Ohio Expositions Commission, its members, officers, employees, agents, and sponsors for damages, costs, loss or any other claims arising from or related to exhibitor's participation in the Ohio State Fair.
- Conduct – While on the grounds of the Ohio Expo Center, exhibitors shall conform to socially acceptable standards of conduct as determined by the Ohio Expositions Commission or the State Highway Patrol. The Ohio Expositions Commission and the State Highway Patrol reserve the right to remove any exhibitor from the Ohio Expo Center for engaging in socially unacceptable behavior, illegal activity, or any other conduct, which might endanger the health, welfare, or safety of any other person on the premises.
- Protests and Appeals
 - Protests must be made in writing, signed by party or parties making the protest.
 - Protests shall be submitted to the General Manager no later than 12pm the day following the competition/issue. If the protest involves an issue on items judged prior to the opening of the Fair, the protest shall be submitted no later than 5pm on the first official day of the Fair.

- Any party making a protest shall submit a fee of $100, which will be retained by the Ohio Exposition Commission if the protest is not sustained.
- The General Manager shall hold a meeting regarding the protest at which time the party making the protest may present evidence or argument in support of the protest.
- A written decision of the General Manager shall be final and shall be served by mail on the party making the protest within ten days of the date on which the protest was heard.
- Rule Violations – In the question of a rule violation, the following due process will be used: Fair officials will question the exhibitor and/or parties involved. If a violation is believed to have occurred, Fair officials will make recommendations to the designated committee member(s) of the Ohio Expositions Commission.

After the committee hears the case, and Fair officials have presented recommendations, they will decide if the case should be brought before the full Commission. In the decision of a case being brought before the Commission, all parties involved will be notified of a hearing date with all parties having the right to present their case. Upon hearing the case, the Ohio Expositions Commission will make a ruling.

If/when the Ohio State Fair management has satisfactory evidence of a violation of rule(s); the exhibitor and/or exhibitor's family may be barred from showing in any future Ohio State Fair. There is a three-year waiting period before the exhibitor is allowed the right of review. In the case that premium dollars have been awarded to an exhibitor in violation of a rule, the Ohio State Fair management will require the exhibitor to refund all premiums, trophies, awards, and ribbons under such violation. Unless fraud and/or deception are involved, all championship placings stand.
